UNITED STATES, PENNSYLVANIA DISTRICT, } ss.

IN THE NAME AND BY THE AUTHORITY OF THE UNITED STATES,

By WILLIAM NICHOLS,
Marshal of the Pennsylvania District,—

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS the Congress of the United States, at the first session of the fourth Congress, to wit, on the twelfth day of May last past, passed an act, to repeal so much of an act, intituled "an act to establish the Judicial Courts of the United States", as directs that the alternate sessions of the Circuit Court for the District of Pennsylvania, shall be holden at Yorktown; and for other purposes, in the following words, to wit.

Fourth Congress of the United States:

At the first session, begun and held at the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on Monday, the seventh of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five.

An Act to repeal so much of an act, intituled "an act to [illegible] that alternate sessions of the United States" as direct the district of Pennsylvania shall be holden at Yorktown; and for other purposes.

Sect. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That so much of the fifth section of the act, intituled "an act to establish the judicial courts of the United States", as directs that alternate sessions of the circuit court for the district of Pennsylvania shall be holden at Yorktown, be, and the same is hereby repealed; and that all the sessions of the said circuit court shall, from and after the passing of this act, be holden at the city of Philadelphia, excepting only, when at any session of the said court, the judges thereof shall direct the next session to be holden at Yorktown, which they are hereby authorized and empowered to do, whenever it shall appear to them to be necessary.

Sect. II. And be it further enacted, That all such process of the said court, as may have issued before the passing of this act, and all recognizances returnable, and all suits and other proceedings that were continued to the said circuit court for the district of Pennsylvania, on the eleventh of October next, in Yorktown, shall now be returned, and held continued, to the same court, on the same day, at Philadelphia. And to the end that suitors, witnesses, and all others concerned, may have notice of the alteration hereby made, the Marshal of the said district is hereby required to make the same known, by proclamation, on or before the first day of August next.

JONATHAN DAYTON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
SAMUEL LIVERMORE,
President of the Senate, pro tempore.

Approved, May the twelfth, 1796,
GEORGE WASHINGTON,
President of the United States.

Deposited among the Rolls, in the Office of the Department of State,
TIMOTHY PICKERING,
Secretary of State.

I DO HEREBY MAKE KNOWN, that all such process of the said court as has, or may be issued, and all recognizances returnable at Yorktown aforesaid, on the eleventh day of October next, will be returned to the Circuit of the United States, at the City Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, on Tuesday, the eleventh day of October next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, And that all suits and other proceedings that were continued to the said court at Yorktown, will be held and continued at the said Circuit Court, at Philadelphia, on the same Eleventh day of October next, of which all persons concerned are desired to take notice, and give their attendance thereat.

GIVEN under my hand, at my office, in the District of Pennsylvania, the twenty-seventh day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, and of our Independence the twenty-first.

WILLIAM NICHOLS,
Marshal.

Foreign Intelligence.

Translated from Hamburgh Papers,
For the GAZETTE of the UNITED STATES.

From ITALY, May 3.

The Emigrant Corps in the Engliſh pay are arrived at Corſica, and were immediately ſent to Ajaccio.

The Univerſity at Padua is vacated, not for fear of the enemy, but becauſe the Students began aſſembling in Jacobin Clubs.

At Bologna, in the Papal territory, the proceſs is finiſhed, carried on for a years time againſt ſeveral perſons accuſed of jacobiniſm and conſpiration with the French. The leader of them a certain Rolandi, a Student at Viola is to be hanged, 3 Doctors in the law to be puniſhed with the galleys, ſome young men with the pillory, and two women who favoured the Aſſemblages are condemned to priſon for life. A young Bologneſe, a chief inſtrument of the conſpiration, was out of regard for his family, ſtrangled in priſon.

The reform projected for the Jewiſh nation in Italy were finally rejected, tho' the young people and the female ſex eſpecially, endeavoured to carry it. After long deliberations, the Elders and Rabbies tho't proper to diſmiſs the Synod, without adopting the innovations propoſed.

VIENNA, May 11.

Beſides the Troops ſent already to the Army in Italy, 25 thouſand men are lately ordered to proceed thither with the utmoſt ſpeed. Meaſures are taken along the route to Italy, to carry the Infantry by waggons, ſo that they can be at their place of deſtination within 16 days. Artilleriſts and Pioneers are gone by poſt for Italy.

The activity in the War Department, and Arſenals cannot be deſcribed, ten ſquadrons of Cyartoriuſky marched from this to day, and every day only make a ſtay of one day, when they are tranſported in the manner above deſcribed.

Gen. Argenteau is under arreſt, but it is believed he will clear himſelf ſufficiently, as the fault committed originated in a wrong dated order.

FRANKFORT, May 14.

On the 10th, Count Colloredo arrived from Vienna, at the head-quarters in Mentz, when the Troops were inſtantly ordered to quit their cantonments, the Chancery of War to pack up their papers.

Yeſterday the Troops ſtationed at Altzey, advanced to Lautereck, and the Saxons are to be encamped in the environs of Creutznach. On the Hundſruck, the roads cannot be uſed yet, for the tranſport of the Artillery. Both Imperial armies are now in motion, ſuperfluous waggons and baggage, as alſo the women are ſent backwards. The contingent of the Duke of Saxe Weymar is approaching, the principal hoſpital of the army is eſtabliſhed at Butzbac in the Vetteraw.

To day the Imperial garriſon, conſiſting of three battallions of Grenadiers marched out, attended by our beſt wiſhes.

The Infantry battalion of Schroeder, who were made priſoners at Queſnoy, is to garriſon this place during the Campaign.

We are informed that the Imperial Reſerve-Corps of artillery, are marching for the upper and lower Rhine. The regiments, Royal Allemand, Latour, and Albert, Carabiniers, as alſo the cavalry of Gen. Wurmſer are in full march. In order to accelerate the communication of the Corps, commanded by the Prince of Wurtemberg, ſtationed at Ehrenbreitſtein, and the Weſterwald, a bridge was built at Bingen, and all the Pontoons belonging to the army are forwarded. The whole force of the Archduke Charles, as well as that of Fieldmarſhal Wurmſer ſeems to be directed to Treves, while the forces on the lower Rhine are to act on the defenſive only. The French are conſiderably reinforced at the Hundſruck. By this Courier I can inform you, that the truce was to day formally diſcontinued by the Auſtrians.

CONTINUATION OF Lateſt Foreign Intelligence.

Received by the Arrivals at New-York,

From the London Gazette, May 21.

Extract of a letter from Adam Duncan, Eſq. admiral of the Blue, and commander in chief of his Majeſty's ſhips and veſſels in the north ſeas, to Mr. Nepean, ſecretary to the admiralty, dated Venerable, at ſea, May 16, 1796—afternoon, Texel, S. E. by E. diſtant 15 leagues.

Be pleaſed to acquaint the Lords Commiſſioners of the admiralty, that, on the 12th inſt. at day light (the Texel then bearing N. W. by W. diſtance about 3 leagues) I diſcovered a frigate and brig ſtanding into the fleet, making the private ſignal to ſpeak with me: they proved to be his majeſty's ſhips Pegaſus and Sylph ſloop, whom I had ordered to cruiſe off the Naze of Norway. Capt. Donnelly came on board and informed me that in conſequence of the information he had received on the 8th inſt. of the Dutch frigate Argo and three national brigs having left Flickerod the day before, bound to the Texel, he proceeded off the Jutland coaſt, and on the morning of the 9th got ſight of them. He kept near them all day, but loſt ſight of them about 10 o'clock that night: and judging it proper to make me acquainted therewith, directed capt. White, of the Sylph, to ſteer a different courſe to himſelf in order to fall in with me, and luckily they both joined. Having conſulted with capt. Donnelly, and found they could not be many leagues from us, I immediately diſpatched capt. Halſted in the Phœnix, together with the Leopard, Pegaſus, and Sylph, to proceed to the northward of the Texel, and ſpreac the reſt of the ſquadron.—All the ſhips had juſt made ſail about 5 o'clock when the ſignal was made for ſeeing the Dutch frigate and brigs; made the ſignal for a general chace, it then blowing ſtrong at W. N. W. with very hazy weather. At a little before 9 o'clock the Phœnix got up with the Dutch frigate Argo, mounting 36 guns, and manned with 237 men, and, after a very ſmart action of about half an hour (during which time ſhe made every effort to get off) ſhe ſtruck to the Phœnix's ſuperior fire; for the particulars of which I muſt beg to refer their lordſhips to capt. Halſted's letter herewith incloſed, who, I have the pleaſure to ſay, has on this, and every other occaſion whilſt under my command, ſhewn himſelf to be a moſt active, zealous and excellent officer.

We continued in chace of the brigs, leaving the Powerful to aſſiſt capt. Halſted in ſhifting the priſoners, &c. At 10 o'clock we ſaw the Leander and Pegaſus near two of the brigs, (which we have ſince found to be the Echo of 18 guns, and the De Geir of 14 guns) but it was ſo hazy and blowing ſo hard, we ſoon loſt ſight of them: however, by the incloſed letter I received from captain Donnelly their lordſhips will be informed they were both run on ſhore near Baſch, about ten leagues to the eaſtward of the Texel.

The Leander, I find ſtood as near the ſhore as ſhe could with ſafety, and ſaw one of the brigs aground; and from the report of the maſter of one of the cutters I ſent on ſhore after, find one of them was completely loſt; the other had beat over a ſhoal and got to an anchor, but as it blew a perfect ſtorm the next day on ſhore, have reaſon to believe ſhe is loſt alſo.

We ſtood after the other brig, and a little before eleven ſhe ſtruck to the Sylph; ſhe proves to be the Mercury of 16 guns, all of which except two ſhe had thrown overboard during the chace, and manned with 85 men. We then found ourſelves far to the eaſtward, with the wind on ſhore, which obliged us to carry a preſs of ſail, and in the night it came to blow a very hard gale of wind, which continued the whole of the next day; and the day following, being more moderate, was rejoined by the Powerful, Phœnix, and Brilliant, together with the Dutch frigate and the Duke of York bye-boat from Yarmouth to Hamburgh, which had been captured by the Argo the day before, and retaken by the Phœnix on the 12th. The frigate is in excellent condition, and in a few days might be got ready for ſea, and made a complete cruizer.

ADAM DUNCAN.

Phœnix, at Sea, May 15, 1796.

SIR,

I have the pleaſure to inform you, that a ſhort time after I received your orders on the morning of the 12th inſt. we ſaw 5 ſail on the lee bow in the S. E. quarter, upon a wind on the ſtarboard tack, which we made out to be a frigate, 3 armed brigs and a cutter. I immediately made ſail, and ſoon diſcovered them to be enemies; at the ſame time the Pegaſus made the ſignal for ſuch to you. Upon our near approach the brigs bore up and made ſail; the Pegaſus and Sylph followed them, who were in chaſe with me, the frigate apparently undetermined whether to go large or keep by the wind, as ſhe often changed her poſition during the chace, but at length kept with the wind a-beam. Quarter paſt 8, A. M. being cloſe on her weather quarter, ſhe hoiſted Dutch colours, upon which I ordered a ſhot to be fired acroſs: a few minutes after we were cloſe along ſide her to windward, when a ſmart action commenced, which laſted about 20 minutes, when the Dutch frigate Argo, of 36 guns, and 237 men, ſtruck to his Majeſty's ſhip Phœnix, under my command.

It is with infinite pleaſure I aſſure you of the very ſteady and cool behaviour of the officers and ſhip's company I have the honor to command, it being ſuch as to merit every thing I can ſay in their praiſe.

I beg leave to recommend in the ſtrongeſt manner through you to their lordſhips, Mr. Joſeph Wood, firſt lieutenant, who, from long experience and ſteady officer like conduct, is highly deſerving the moſt particular attention, our loſs conſiſts of one man killed and twenty eight wounded ſome of them dangerouſly.

The ſails, ſtanding and running rigging, received ſome damage, as did the enemy's, but not of ſo much conſequence but was ſoon put to rights. The frigate and the brigs we from Norway, bound to the Texel; the cut which we retook is the Duke of York packet, from Yarmouth to the Elbe, taken by them the day before.

W. L. HALSTED.

Adam Duncan, Eſq. admiral of the Blue.

FRANCE.

THOMAS PAINE to the Council of Five Hundred.

CITIZENS,

I preſent you a ſmall work entitled, "Decay and fall of the Engliſh Syſtem of Finance;" in which I have explained and brought to light the finances of your principal enemy, the Engliſh government. If I have any ability to judge of the circumſtances, and by them, of probable events, that Machiavelian government draws near its end.

The circumſtances in which it now ſtands, are as curious as they are critical, and quite different from any other it has ever been involved in; two inferior and formidable enemies who never had ſhewn themſelves in any preceeding war, preſs it now on every ſide; the one is the great and progreſſive change of opinion, ſpreading itſelf widely in England, concerning the hereditary ſyſtem of government; and this ſyſtem has much more fallen in the opinion of the people of that country, theſe four years, than it had done in France the four years that preceded the French Revolution. The other is, the diſcovery made at the laſt by the public, that the ſyſtem of Finance, by loans or conſtituted rents, (funding ſyſtem) the only reſource of the Engliſh government in order to get the money they are in continual want of, is nothing but a governmental fraud.

In the preceeding war the Engliſh government was ſupported by the ſuperſtition of the country for a thing which exiſts but in the name and which they call a conſtitution, and by their credulity in their own ſyſtem of Finance; from theſe two popular errors, it drew all its ſtrength, and now they vaniſh, their reſources are exhauſted.

When the Engliſh government, that monſter, the reſult of national blindneſs and maritime oppreſſion, is once overthrown, the world will be freed from the common enemy, and the two nations, France and England may depend upon a reciprocal fraternity and a durable peace.

The Preſident "I announce to the council, there are depoſited on the table two copies of that work, one in Engliſh the other tranſlated into French by our colleague Lanthenas."

The honorable mention is called for.

Deſermont, "I aſk alſo the honorable mention, but as the work preſented to us is deſerving of fixing of all who are now about laying the foundation of a ſyſtem of Finance, and one of our colleagues has tranſlated it into French, I move that the council order its impreſſion and diſtribution to every one of the members."

The propoſition is adopted.

LONDON, May 23.

Letters from Amſterdam, dated the 16th inſt. have been received in town; they ſtate, the moſt active exertions to be making in the dock-yards of Amſterdam, Rotterdam, Helvoet and the Brill, to complete ſeveral ſhips of war building at theſe ports.—On the 16th, twenty-two veſſels of war, five of which were of the line, and the majority of the reſidue frigates were lying in the Texel, ready for ſea.

QUEBEC, July 14.

His Excellency Lord Dorcheſter embarked with his family, and ſailed for England on Saturday laſt, in his majeſty's ſhip Active, Capt. Gower.

The eſtimation in which his Lordſhip's adminiſtration of the Government of this Province has been uniformly held, appears from the following Addreſſes preſented on the morning of his departure.

To his Excellency the Right Honorable GUY LORD DORCHESTER, Knight of the moſt Honorable Order of the Bath, Captain-General, and Governor in Chief, in and over the Provinces of Lower Canada, Upper Canada, Nova-Scotia and New Brunſwick, General and Commander in Chief of all his Majeſty's forces in North Carolina, &c. &c. &c.

May it pleaſe your Excellency.

HAVING experienced for many years your Lordſhip's mild and auſpicious adminiſtration of his majeſty's government, and being conſcious, that during that period, the reſources, proſperity and happineſs of this Province, have increaſed in a degree almoſt unequalled. We the inhabitants of the city of Quebec, reſpectfully requeſt your Lordſhip to accept our ſincere and moſt grateful thanks and acknowledgments.

The length of your reſidence in the Province, the advantages derived to our ſociety from the example of private virtues, ſhewn by yourſelf and your family, your Lordſhip's uniform, prudent and paternal attention, under every change of time and circumſtance, to the true intereſts of his majeſty's ſubjects entruſted to your immediate care, and that gratitude which we feel, and muſt be permitted to repeat, excite in our minds the warmeſt ſentiments of perſonal attachment; of which allow us, my Lord, to render you the ſtrongeſt aſſurances.

Under theſe impreſſions, we view your Lordſhips intended departure, with the deepeſt regret; and ſubmitting to your determination to leave us with unfeigned reluctance, we entreat you, to accept our moſt ſincere wiſhes for your favorable paſſage to Great-Britain, for the future health and proſperity of yourſelf and of all your family.

We requeſt your Lordſhip, moſt humbly and reſpectfully to aſſure our Sovereign, of our faithful loyalty and attachment to his ſacred perſon, and to offer our gratitude, for the various bleſſings which we continue to enjoy under that moſt excellent conſtitution of government, which we have received from his majeſty and his parliament, during your lordſhip's adminiſtration.

It is our fervent prayer, that your lordſhip may continue for many years, to receive new and additional proofs of the royal approbation, to which, from your virtues and your merit, you hitherto have been, and muſt ever remain, moſt juſtly and eminently entitled.

Quebec, 1ſt July, 1796.

To his Excellency the Right Honorable GUY LORD DORCHESTER, Captain-General, and Governor in Chief, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Lordship,

THE inhabitants of Montreal penetrated with gratitude for the happineſs enjoyed by them under your lordſhip's adminiſtration of the government of this province, during a great number of years, embrace the preſent opportunity of your intended departure for Great Britain, to entreat you to receive their humble acknowledgments, and to accept their moſt ſincere wiſhes for a favorable paſſage, for your health and proſperity, and for that of all your family.

The prudence and moderation which diſtinguiſhed your conduct in this province, aſſured internal peace and tranquility; and in reflecting infinite honor upon your lordſhip, have fully juſtified the confidence repoſed in you by our auguſt ſovereign, and ſecured to you the affections of the inhabitants.

We beſeech you, my lord, to carry our moſt ardent vows to the foot of the throne, for the happineſs of our gracious monarch, to aſſure him of our attachment to his ſacred perſon and to the happy government under which it is our glory to live; and we fervently pray that his majeſty's approbation may continue to diſtinguiſh and reward your virtues, and your merit.

His Lordſhip returned to both Addreſſes the following Anſwer:

Gentlemen,

I AM obliged by this teſtimony of your regard for me and my family. It is unneceſſary for me to aſſure you, that your welfare, and the general happineſs and proſperity of this province, in which I have paſſed ſo great a part of my life, will ever intereſt me in the moſt ſenſible manner.

I ſhall with the utmoſt pleaſure embrace every occaſion of repreſenting to his majeſty the loyalty of his ſubjects in Lower Canada, and their attachment to his perſon and government.

Your veneration for a monarch who may juſtly be ſtyled the father of his people, is a proof that you hold in proper eſtimation the excellent conſtitution he has given to this country, and which, I have no doubt, will rapidly advance it to be of the firſt importance among the Britiſh provinces.

Extract of a letter from Franckfort, May 18.

"Yeſterday morning all the troops which were here, ſet off for Alzey. Trains of artillery, with their baggage, are continually paſſing, who take the Limbourg route. The Imperial cavalry, who were encamped in our environs, are alſo on the march. Never were any movements more alert or preparations ſtronger.

"The movements on the ſide of the Upper Rhine are not leſs conſiderable. Advice has been received from Worms, on the 12th, for the troops to paſs the Rhine without interruption, and to go towards Hoppenheim and Lautern: a bridge is going to be thrown up from the ſide of Bengen."

FRENCH REPUBLIC,

A I X, 5th Prairial.

It is not without reaſon, in announcing to us the conſpiracy of Babeuf; you anticipated, that his accomplices would not delay crying aloud for re-action. The following account juſtifies how much your ſuſpicions were founded.

Decree of the Municipal Adminiſtration from the Canton of Aix, 3d Prairial.

Conſidering, that ſince the diſcovery of the conſpiracy of the infamous Babeuf, the enemies of the republican government, avowing againſt the decrees of the 5th and 15th Fructidor, the partizans of the revolt of Vendemaire, the organizers from the company of the Sun and Jeſus, at length the re-promoters of Foreal, deceived by the borrowed colours by thoſe late conſpirators, aſſembled in crowds in the public places, uniting together in the coffee houſes, feeding up the exaſperation of the mind, ſtirring up the flames of civil war by deſigned atrocities and incendiaries.

Viewing, that ſince that period, man-ſlaughter aroused again and is ſpread about—the villainous deſerters, from the requiſition, dare ſhew themſelves—the diſturbing prieſts re aſſume their audacity—the fanatics their prepoſſeſſions, and the hypocrites their ſanguinary plan of deſtruction.

Obſerving that all thoſe ſymptoms joined with the affirmation of the criminal tribune of the department, in its decree of the 29th Floreal laſt, effectively announce, that the late commotions excited at Paris, have an evident connection with thoſe which threatened the public tranquillity, and that Babeuf has either accomplices or perſons who would continue diſturbances in our countries.

Obſerving, at length, that it is neither the duty, the dignity, or even the good faith of an adminiſtration, to rid itſelf of its reſponſibility by inſignificant and ſterile diſcoveries; but on the contrary, ought to deſpiſe every murmur, and brave every obſtacle, to inſure reſpect to perſons and property.

The commiſſary from the Executive Directory decrees—

1. Every coffee-houſe ſhall be ſhut up until a further order.

2. Repeated orders ſhall be given for the prompt detention of deſerters and youth from the requiſition; the commiſſary of the Executive Directory to be charged therewith.

3. Patroles ſhall parade the ſtreets and diſperſe all riotous meetings.

4. Every individual is forbid to walk out armed with piſtols, ſwords or ſticks (the military national guards in ſervice and public functionaries excepted.

5. * * * * * * * *

The tranquillity which reigns in the city has given cauſe for a general ſurpriſe, in beholding this proclamation publiſhed amid the ſound of drums and trumpets, which was occaſioned by rage, to behold the public ſatisfaction that appeared by finding out the diſcovery of the conſpiracy.

The alarm has not ſpread abroad, the youth from the requiſition have not returned, the aſſertion of the commune is falſe and calumnious; the coffee-houſes are open for the multitude to read the journals upon the arrival of the couriers; and the joy which appeared expecting the meſſages from the Directory, would drive the municipal terroriſts into deſperation; whoſe wiſhes were, that thoſe who did not receive the journals, ſhould be acquainted with the events.

Freſh proofs of the correſpondence from the conſpirators with the departments.

MONTAUBAN, 1ſt Prairial.

An hour before the courier arrived, which announced a diſcovery of the conſpiracy, the alarm bell was ſounded here, the alarmed citizens haſten in crowds to the municipality; the mayor tells them he is utterly ignorant from what authority the order was iſſued; the jail-keeper aſſures them, he has no knowledge of it. The courier at length arrives, our excluſifs ſurround the poſt-office, and poſſeſs themſelves of the news; but it would be difficult to picture to you their deſpair, when they diſcovered that the conſpiracy had been a trick. They now endeavor to perſuade themſelves that this conſpiracy is only chimerical, as a proof of which they give the minutes of Louvet, whom they call the defender of oppreſſed patriots.

One Pages, a ſtocking manufacturer, a member of the former revolutionary committee, lately arrived at Paris, is ſuſpected of having been the courier from the inſurrection committee.

Through all the ſmall neighboring villages, the arrival of the expreſs has been preceded by meetings at the houſes of the ringleaders of the terroriſts.

DINANT, 4th Prairial.

The diſcovery of the hideous plot of Drouet, Babœuf, &c. has been the topic of every converſation here within eight days paſt. Every friend to the conſtitution, order and peace, rejoice at this fortunate event, which appear to have darkened certain countenances but newly radient.

Many of our excluſifs had adopted the dubious plan of their patron, Ch. Duval; we are now aſſured they at laſt begin to think ſomething of the reality of this conſpirary.

News are circulated, that two envoys of the ſelf created directory of Public ſafety, were arrived at St. Malo; and that after finding the mine had been counter worked at Paris, they fled. I cannot ſay upon what grounds this rumour is founded; the authenticity of which I do not vouch for.

ARMY OF ITALY.

Extract of a letter from the Commiſſary of the Executive Directory, near the army of Italy, to the Directory.

10th Prairial, 4th year.

Citizen Directors,

The army, on entering Lombardy on account of the defeat of the Auſtrians, had no cauſe to believe it would be forced to ſuppreſs the tumults of the people; becauſe, from the joy they have ſhewn, it had every reaſon to ſuppoſe the contrary—I however feel happy to inform you, that the reſult was as favorable as it was ſuddenly effected.

I was informed, on the 5th, by Gen. Deſpinoy, who commanded at Milan, that in the ſuburbs of that city, on the ſide towards Pavia, ſome danger was appreheeded by reaſon of the aſſembling of the people. Troops were ſent to diſperſe them, but the rebels endeavored to diſarm them. Several were killed or wounded, the others flew and order was again reſtored.

In the courſe of the night I was told that inſurrections had alſo taken place at Vateza, as well as at Pavia and at Lody, and that the toſin was rung in the country, in order to alarm the people—that this ſedition, which beyond doubt was fomented by nobles and prieſts, was raiſed for the purpoſe of aſſaſſinating the French; that the garriſon of Pavia was diſarmed, and that the countrymen had murdered the men employed by government for the tranſport of artillery and military ſtores.

I did not heſitate to put a ſtop to this ferment. I ordered ſeveral ſuſpicious perſons under arreſt, and theſe means backed by the exertions of Gen. Deſpinoy, reſtored peace to Milan.

I immediately informed Gen. Buonaparte of all thoſe circumſtances, he immediately arrived at Milan, and we ſet off for Pavia, the ſeat of the rebellion. On our coming to Beraſco, General of Brigade de Laſne, who commanded the van guard, perceived a number of armed men to the number of 7 or 800, he fell on them and killed upwards of 100, the remainder took to flight, and our troops juſtly irritated, ſet fire to the village.

We continued our march to Pavia, whoſe gates we found ſhut, and the inhabitants in arms—We were informed the French garriſon were made priſoners of war.

General Buonaparte ſummoned the rebels; but the ſummons not being anſwered, attacked the city: We cannonaded for ſome time, but the grenadiers breaking down the gates with axes, the rebels were either killed or diſperſed, and the city was taken—we might be juſtified in ſaying by aſſault. The Governor was liberated.

I diſmiſſed the municipality—and have replaced it. I have cauſed a number of nobles and prieſts to be arreſted; ſome of whom, tried by a military commiſſion, have been ſhot.—Peace is now entirely reſtored.

Contributions are coming in, in profuſion.

(Signed) SALICETTI.

Gen. Kleber, commanding the left wing of the army of the Sambre and the Meuſe, has addreſſed a proclamarion to the inhabitants of the right bank of the Rhine, by which he promiſes ſafety and ſecurity if they remain in the country. All he aſks is, that they will not quit their homes. All thoſe who, not acting up to the invitation, will follow and join the enemy, will be conſidered as having acted as ſuch, and looked upon as having undertaken their cauſe and their defence, and their property ſhall either be burnt or given up to pillage.

We are aſſured that the Pretender is always with the army of Conde. Letters from Zwitzerland inform us, that he was there on the 31ſt of May.

The paſſengers in the brig Mary, Captain Benjamin Earl, from Hamburgh, return him their ſincere thanks for his kind and humane uſage whilſt on board ſaid brig, and for a plentiful allowance of good wholeſome proviſions, and they recommend to their friends remaining in Germany who mean to come to this country (if ſaid brig Mary ſhould continue in that trade) to take paſſage in her.

The ſhip Harriot has arrived off Wilmington, in eleven weeks from Londonderry, in great diſtreſs. She had on board 450 paſſengers, 45 of whom died on the paſſage, 36 were preſſed by a frigate a few days ago, and 15 are ſick on board.

The feſtival of the Corpus Chriſti, ſays the Gazette Francaiſe of May 27, was celebrated at Paris with unuſual ſolemnity. All the ſhops were ſhut; the public walks were crouded and the churches full. Had Hebert, Chaumette and other accomplices been alive, they would have been convinced tha the public opinion, in religious matters, is not ſo eaſily ſubdued as they imagined; and ſtrangers would have done the French juſtice to believe they are not atheiſts.

A letter from Breſt ſtates that great efforts are made to reſtore the marine to a reſpectable ſtate; but, in the late organization, many old officers have been neglected, and ſome among them, are thoſe that ſuffered under the reign of terror.

The tribunal of Annulment reported to the Legiſlature of France, 7th Prairial, that there had been rendered civil and criminal judgments, to the number of 2679.

The conſpiracy of the Jacobins in France, which the Aurora has ſtated to have been a very trifling affair, is ſaid in the Paris Gazettes to have been very extenſive, and to have embraced moſt of the ptriots of '89, or, in other words, the clubs. In a great number of cities, theſe anarchiſts armed and broke out into open revolt about the 26 and 28 Floreal, the time they expected the execution of their projects in Paris. At Marſeilles, the pretended patriots were liberated from priſon.—At Troyes and at Nagent or Leine, the municipalities, under pretext of rendering the national guards active, had armed the remains of the Jacobins and the revolutionary committees. Other people were diſarmed, and it was openly ſaid that orders were expected from Paris to exterminate thoſe called chouans.—The houſes deſtined to pillage were marked out. At Bouges, the juriſdiction was ſuppreſſed—at Tarreſcon all good citizens were forced to abandon the town—The brigands became maſters and indulged in all kinds of exceſs. (Minerva.)

The alaram at Turin, on the approach of the French, was ſuch, as that the wife of the Pretender, the daughter of the King Sardinia, and Madame d'Artois fled from the city. On the news of the Armiſtice, they returned; but not be ſuffered to remain there after the Treaty.

A citizen of Toulon was condemned to ſeveral days impriſonment for ſinging le reveil du peuple. The tribunal of Caſſation has annulled the infamous ſentence.

A LARGE ELEGANT AND WELL FINISHED

Three-story Brick House,

(The late residence of General Walter Stewart)

WITH a LOT of GROUND thereunto belonging, the west side of Third-street, near Union-street containing in front 32 feet, and in depth 100 feet, to an alley leading into Union-street. The house is 32 feet front and 50 feet deep; the several rooms contained in it are large, commodious, and completely finished; the two first stories are each 13 feet high; there are 20 mahogany doors in the house; a geometrical staircase, with mahogany rails and a good sky-light. The kitchen is in the cellar, which is spacious and convenient, and finished with an oven, stew-holes and pantries, a servants' hall and large wine-cellar adjoining the kitchen, in front of which is an area in which there is a pump. The yard is vaulted. Communicating with the said building is a neat three-story brick house, on the north side of Union-street, containing 30 feet front by 20 feet deep; the lower part of which is at present occupied as a compting-house, and the upper part divided into well-finished large chambers. This house may at a small expense be converted into a convenient dwelling: The street door is very handsome, and the front and back have Venetian window-shutters. Adjoining the last house, upon the lot belonging to the first, are erected bathing-rooms, &c. There are likewise very good coach-house and stables finished equal (or nearly so) with any in the city, on a lot containing on Union street 30 feet, and in depth on the west side of said alley 52 feet. There are good cellars under the whole of the buildings, and a wine room over part of the stable, with a hay-loft over the remainder. For further particulars enquire of

Mr. FRANCIS,

(Of the New Theatre)

TAKES this opportunity of returning thanks to his scholars and to the public. Mr. Francis intends, on his return from Maryland, to open a public academy for dancing, upon a plan entirely new. He flatters himself that his attention to his pupils hitherto renders any promises of conducting his future schemes on the most liberal and strictest terms, of propriety, totally unnecessary.

N. B. Private tuition as usual.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away this morning from the Subscriber, living in the county of Monmouth, New-Jersey, a remarkably black Negro Man, named BEN—about 40 years of age, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, stout made, bald on the crown of his head; had on and took with him a grey homespun coating coat and jacket, a brown cloth coat, with a black collar, homespun tow shirts and trowsers, with other shirts and small cloaths which cannot be enumerated. He is a complaisant, artful and deceitful fellow.

Whoever will take up and secure the said Runaway, so that his owner may him again, shall have the above reward, and reasonable charges paid if brought home.

Elisha Lawrance.

33,261	Blanks.
50,000	Tickets, at Eight Dollars,		400,000

N. B. To favour those who may take a quantity of Tickets, the prize of 40,000 dollars will be the LAST drawn ticket, and the 30,000 the LAST but ONE:

And approved notes, securing payment in either money or prizes, in ten days after drawing, will be received for any number not less than 30 tickets.

This Lottery will afford an elegant specimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Washington—Two beautiful designs are already selected for the entire fronts on two of the public squares; from these prawings it is proposed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as soon as possible after this lottery is sold, and to convey them, when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner described in the scheme for the Hotel Lottery. A nett deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the necessary expenses of printing, &c. and the surplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National University, to be erected within the city of Washington.

The Drawing will commence as soon as the tickets are sold off.—The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finished; and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is closed, are to be considered as given towards the fund for the University; it being determined to settle the whole business in a year from the ending of the drawing, and to take up the bonds given as security.

The real securities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the President and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commissioners assisted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requested to undertake this arduous task a second time on behalf of the public; a sufficient number of these having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National University and the other federal objects may continue to favor the design.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been sent for sale, the public are assured that the drawing will speedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably necessary to insure a safe disposal of the tickets, has rendered the short suspension indispensable.

SAMUEL BLODGET.

☞ Tickets may be had at the Bank of Columbia; of James West & Co. Baltimore; of Peter Gilman, Boston; of John Hopkins, Richmond; and of Richard Wells, Cooper's Ferry.

TO BE SOLD,

At No. 128, North Second-Street, and by several of the Apothecaries in this City.

TRANSFERS of the right to remove pains and inflammations from the human body, as secured to Dr. ELISHA PERKINS, by patent, with instruments and directions necessary for the practice. This mode of treatment is particularly useful in relieving pains in the head, face, teeth, breast, side, stomach, back, rheumatisms, recent gouts, &c. &c.

Notwithstanding the utility of this practice, it is not presumed but there are cases in which this and every other remedy may sometimes fail.
